10 years as an NHS Consultant Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeon

Sarcoma lead clinician (2010-2018) at North Bristol NHS Trust

Director of an aesthetic surgery company, Bristol Cosmetic Surgeon.
Plastic surgery medico-legal expert with a special interest in clinical negligence and fitness to practise.

Mr Wilson was educated in North Yorkshire before attending dental school at Liverpool University in 1984 and medical school at Leicester University in 1993. He commenced maxillofacial training in 1990 and gained his dental Fellowship of the Royal Colleges of Surgeons of England (FDS.RCS). He embarked upon general surgical training in teaching hospitals in the South West, gaining his general surgical fellowship of Edinburgh (FRCSEdin) in 1994.

His plastic surgical training in Plymouth, Exeter and Bristol provided experience in all aspects of reconstructive surgery including microsurgery. In 2007 he passed the Intercollegiate examination in plastic surgery – FRCS(Plast). He undertook a specialist fellowship in breast, sarcoma and head and neck surgery in Perth, Western Australia in 2008. He was awarded a Certificate of Completion of Surgical Training in 2008 with accreditation on the General Medical Council's specialist register for Plastic Surgery. Mr Wilson was appointed as an NHS Consultant in Plastic, Reconstructive and Aesthetic Surgery at Frenchay Hospital in 2009. As an NHS consultant his work focuses mainly upon the management of soft tissue sarcoma and reconstruction, and served as chair of the Network Sarcoma Site Specific Group. He is also supports the head and neck reconstructive and oculo-plastic service, including facial palsy. He has published in the plastic surgery literature over the past 15 years, including having contributed towards several textbooks.

Mr Wilson is a full member of the British Association of Plastic, Reconstructive and Aesthetic Surgeons (BAPRAS), British Association of Aesthetic Plastic Surgeons (BAAPS), American Society of Plastic Surgeons and the Rhinoplasty society of Europe.